

1 see "Rebecca is 19"?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. Do you know why the change?

4 A. No.

5 Q. Do you have any recollection of being advised
6 that the young lady in question submitted an affidavit?

7 A. Yes, I have some recollection about the 8 discussion of this matter.

9 Q. All right. And do you have a recollection
10 that it turned out that Mr. Duddy was wrong when he put 11 down the age of 17?

12 A. Not specifically. I remember that there
13 was -- that some material had apparently been brought 14 forward which necessitated making some changes in the 15 information.

16 Q. All right. You learned that Mr. Duddy was 17 wrong in a number of factors about this story dealing
18 with Rebecca here, didn't you?

19 A. I don't recall enough of the details of the 20 conversation to be sure that I was made aware of how many 21 matters needed to be changed.

22 Q. All right. But you were aware that there was
23 more than one factual statement regarding this incident
24 that had to be changed?

25 A. Your mention of the affidavit doesn't refresh
26 my recollection as to the existence of the affidavit
