

1 investigative reporting?

2 A. No, I didn't. It may be -- I'm sure that he
3 and Brooks must have discussed this project at some
4 length.

5 Brooks, as you know, has a law school
6 background, so I don't know to what degree they went into
7 these things, but I'm sure it was at least -- I'm not
8 sure, I presume these things must have been discussed at 9 some length between Brooks and Neil.

10 Q. When you say Brooks has law school
11 background, you mean he started law school, but dropped
12 out; didn't you?

13 A. My understanding -- yeah, I didn't mean to 14 imply that he had passed the bar, that he was a lawyer.
15 I think my understanding is that he put in a couple of 16 years and never took the bar examination.

17 Q. He didn't even graduate from law school; did
18 he?

19 A. No, he didn't. I didn't say he did.

20 Q. Okay. Let me go back again to that
21 one particular item I was asking about as far as 22 Neil T. Duddy's investigation.

23 Would one of Neil T. Duddy's responsibility have 24 been to get the names, at least, of the people who
25 allegedly were in hospitals because of Witness Lee's
26 treatment?

1           A. It certainly would have been helpful in
2 documenting the book.

3           Q. Well, aside from the fact that it would be
4 helpful or not, based upon your experience, wouldn't that
5 be one of his primary responsibilities to find out who in 6 fact did have to go to the hospital, if such was the 7 fact?

8           A. Yes.

9           Q. I may be repeating myself, but I want to make
10 certain because of some of my notes here.

11           On God-Men I, the introduction to it, do you know
12 who wrote that?

13           A. Can I look at it?

14           Q. Oh, of course.

15           A. [Examination of documents.]
16 The introduction or the forward?

17           Q. No, I think it is --

18           A. There's a forward and a preface.

19           Q. Which is it? No, it's the introduction that 20 I'm interested in first.

21           A. [Examination of document.]
22 I can take a guess; do you want that or not?

23           Q. I really don't want a guess, because a guess
24 doesn't help me.

25           A. I can only base it on the style.

26           Q. Well, maybe I'll ask the question this way.
