

1 Q. What are the job responsibilities of a project 09:06:15
2 editor as you understand them? 09:06:19

3 A. To make sure that books are grammatic and the 09:06:28
4 punctuation is correct; that the overall content is 09:06:31
5 good; that it reflects Harvest House standards on 09:06:35
6 theology, which is a conservative Christian viewpoint. 09:06:37
7 Correct spelling, of course. 09:06:42

8 Q. And is that everything as you understand it? 09:06:46

9 A. No, it's not everything, but it's most of it. 09:06:51

10 Q. Okay. And we'll talk a little bit more about 09:06:54
11 that in a minute. 09:06:56

12 A. Okay. 09:06:57

13 Q. But give me a similar scope of description for 09:06:57
14 a copy editor as you understand it. 09:07:00

15 A. Copy editor isn't in charge of content, per 09:07:04
16 se. Copy editor doesn't check -- copy editor is still 09:07:10
17 in charge of grammar and punctuation and spelling. 09:07:17
18 Still in charge of the overall feel for the book, but 09:07:21
19 doesn't do any substantive or line-by-line editing. 09:07:26

20 Q. Would you say the primary difference between a 09:07:31
21 copy editor and a project editor is that a project 09:07:33
22 editor does substantive or line-by-line editing? 09:07:37

23 A. Does more of that type of editing. I wouldn't 09:07:41
24 say I'm a substantive editor, more line by line. 09:07:48

25 Q. I'm sorry, you would not say that you are? 09:07:56
