As I said, Jim, all my LC materials were lost in the mails, so I could not check stuff personally. We decided to do a more extensive treatment for the next printing because of the suit. But the publisher was ready to go to print with the next edition, so they put the squeeze on. The publisher is demanding I recheck all quotations to be sure they are in context. The last minute thing was not my idea, but the result of the suit and the publisher going back to reprinting .

I have no choice in the matter.
